HERE IS QUICK WORK.

Mrs. Ida Rigley Divorced and Married Again Within Thirty Minutes.

SHE IS ONLY 17 YEARS OLD.

Five Months Sufficed to Discourage
Her in Her First Matrimonial Venture.

Mrs. Ida Rigley, of Bridgman, was granted a divorce from Charles Rigley this morning by Judge Coolidge. Thirty minutes after the decree was entered she became the wife of Joseph Miller, a Watervliet farmer.

She is only 17 years old and the license to marry Joseph Miller was issued upon consent of her mother. Joseph Miller was on hand at the court house this morning ready to procure a marriage license the moment Mrs. Rigley was released from the bonds of her first matrimonial venture. Attorney Hicks procured the divorce and after he had delivered to Ida the evidences of her freedom she assumed her maiden name, which is Addie Wilkinson, and announced to Joseph that she was ready to marry him.

The license was issued and with the document in his inside pocket Joseph took his happy-hearted sweetheart to the office of Lawyer Hicks in this city, where Justice Graves performed the service of Addie's second marriage. Buoyant of heart, with not a vestige of a suspicion that her second trial of the matrimonial state would end so disastrously as the first, Addie took her husband's strong arm and followed him to the lumber wagon that conveyed them to their future home.

Addie was only 16 when she first assumed the responsibility of a wife. On November 12, 1896, at Carlisle, Ind., she married Charles Rigley. She lived with him until May 1, 1897, when he refused to support her longer and she returned to her mother's home in Bainbridge.

VERY SMOOTH

Are the Fellows Suspected of Committing Friday's Thefts.

The two men who Friday looted the residence of Mrs. Kramer and W. F. Rowe are suspected of being the same fellows who committed a series of thefts in Allegan last Thursday. One of them walks with a crutch but in an emergency is as fleet on foot as the fleetest.

They sell court plaster and if receiving no response after ringing the door bell they enter the residence and levy on the valuables. They hail from Grand Rapids. Mrs. Kramer offers a reward of $10 for the return of her property and Sheriff Ferguson offers $15 more for the thieves in custody.

WILL BE RICH.

The New Patent of F. F. Snow Will Make Him Wealthy.

F. F. Snow, formerly a machinist with the Great Northern Iron works of this city, and now a resident of St. Joseph, has already received offers of several thousand dollars for the exclusive right in Canada, France and Germany. If he accepts the three offers he will be independently rich.

Mr. Snow's patent consists of a vaporizing carburetor and air governor, a device that will simplify the gas engine.

AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

Fred Smith Wanted at Buchanan for Forgery.

A warrant has been issued at Buchanan for Fred Smith, who is alleged to have forged the name of William Diamond to a promissory note of $40 which he discounted at the First National bank in that city Saturday, receiving in return a note of $20 which he owed the bank, and $20 in cash. Smith has been in the employ of Darwin Crane and Saturday afternoon he disappeared from Mr. Crane's place and the officers thus far have been unable to locate him.

Ice Cream.

Those wishing ice cream for Thanksgiving are requested to leave their order early at Mrs. T. B. White's, Newland block. 660t6

F. D. Smith, piano tuner, of Chicago is in the city and will remain 10 days. He has taken the place of Fred Schofield in this territory and comes highly recommended. Leave order at Bowman's music store. 6t863

Pictures.

We have just received a new line of water color, pastel and hand colored fac-similes, etchings, artotypes, art studies, etc. JUDSON E. RICE.

Mr. L. M. Rice, his companion, and his wife, will be in the city for a few days.

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair to night and Wednesday. Not so cold Wednesday. Northwest winds.

ENGLISH IS PRESIDENT

Officers Are Elected for the Excelsior Mineral Water Co.

At a meeting last night of the stockholders of the Excelsior mineral water company a board of directors composed of the following citizens was elected: Dr. John Bell, Dr. W. C. Bastar, Edward Brammel, C. M. Edick, Peter and Frank English and Attorney V. M. Gore.

The directors completed the organization of the company by the election of officers as follows:

President and general manager—Peter English.

Secretary—Frank English.

Treasurer—C. M. Edick.

The company will begin the construction of a bath house within two weeks. Arrangements are being made to dispose of the salt which the water contains as well as the water itself.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.

Morton Hill the Scene of an Incipient Blaze.

Fire broke out in the home of Russel Higgins, Winans street, Morton Hill, last night and dwelling was saved by a narrow margin. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins were down town and when they returned the flames were visible through the windows. Mr. Higgins rushed in and by hard fighting subdued the blaze.

The fire originated from the explosion of an oil stove. The fire department was not alarmed. The damage done the furniture was adjusted at $75. The building was owned by J. S. Morton, and the loss on it is considerable. Curtis & Jennings are agents for the company that carried the risk on the furniture.

YOU'LL LAUGH

If You See the "Obstinate Family" Tomorrow Evening.

The ladies of the Universalist church are very fortunate in having arranged a delightful entertainment for tomorrow evening, Nov. 24, at Conkey's hall, at which time will be presented a very amusing, laughable farce, entitled "The Obstinate Family" or "A Woman's Won't."

The plot is laid about the Harford's dinner table and shows how slight an occurrence will suffice to disturb the domestic tranquility of a whole household. The situations involved are ludicrous, laughable in the extreme, more particularly so to those who have experienced the force of a husband's or wife's whim.

Rehearsals are being held every day and with faultless costume and appropriate stage settings, the piece cannot be but a great success.

The following is the full cast:

Lacy, a servant..... Miss Adeline Graves
Mr Harwood, Harford's father-in-law..... Mr Charles K. Farmer
Mrs Harwood, Harford's mother-in-law..... Miss Anna Watson
Henry Harford..... Mr Frank P. Graves
Jessie Harford, his wife..... Mrs Alice Hood
Trenholm, James, Harford's servant..... Mr Floyd Dalgneau
Admission 10 cents. After the entertainment refreshments will be served and dancing, with excellent music, will be provided.

Probate Court.

Will of Sarah Moss admitted to probate and Lemuel Moss appointed executor thereof.

Will of Mary Fox admitted to probate and John M. Fox appointed as executor thereof.

Lucius Hogue appointed administrator of the estate of Asa Sherwood, deceased.

Charles A. Johnson appointed guardian of the estate of Worth Landon, minor.

Petition filed by Anna E. Kremer, executrix of the estate of Charles Kremer, deceased, asking for a license to sell certain real estate. Hearing Dec. 50.

Petition filed by Luther Hemingway, executor of the estate of Gould Parrest, deceased, asking for the allowance of his final account. Hearing December 20.

Gems of the Apostles.

One would think the 12 apostles were rich gentlemen, judging by the freedom with which the ancients assigned them emblems in the way of precious stones. Thus Peter, the Rock, was represented by the hard jasper. Andrew was given the blue sapphire as the emblem of heavenly faith. Bartholomew, the martyr, was assigned the blood red carnelian; James, the affectionate, the white chalcedon, and the gentle, loving John the emerald. With the same view to fitness, James the younger was assigned the topaz, and the enthusiastic and energetic Matthew the amethyst, while the chrysolite was the emblem of Matthias; the beryl, Thomas; the chrysoprase, Thaddeus, and the pink hyacinth, Simon of Cana. To the present day the emblem of Matthew is the sacred stone ornamenting cross and pastoral ring of the Roman Catholic—Pittsburg Dispatch.

WITH LOVING HANDS. CHRISTMAS PRESENTS THAT MAY BE MADE AT HOME. An Odd and Useful Device For Sister or Mother—A Novel Gift For the College Student In Which the College Colors Are Employed. Christmas gifts should not be too costly. Expensive gifts upset the equilibrium of things generally, for they necessitate a return in kind and so degenerate into commerce. Perhaps the most acceptable of all holiday presents are those that bear the imprint of loving hands, something homemade and handmade. Gifts for intimate friends and members of the family should not represent a sum of money, but rather affection and kind thoughtfulness. One of the cutest things of a homely kind is a device for keeping shoe buttons, needles and thread together, and it may be readily rigged up by any one who has the least faculty for "making things." A clay pipe is the foundation, and it is dressed up as an old lady in a calico dress. The back of the pipe forms the face, with that sharp point for the nose, and eyes and mouth are put on with pencil just as pipe nuns are made. The stem is then stuck into the spool of linen thread, which answers two purposes—that of holding the pipe up and of being handy when the thread is wanted. The old lady has a sunbonnet on her head, a fichu pinned around her neck with the shoe needle and a wide skirt. The buttons are in a bag that hangs on her sleeve. She also wears a white apron, upon which are written these words:

My name is Miss Piper. I'm not a penwiper, But if from your shoes Your buttons you lose Just bring them to me And you'll readily see With what great delight I'll sew them on tight.

The difficulty of making suitable gifts for a brother or cousin who is away at college has been greatly lessened by bringing the college colors into requisition. This is especially pretty where there are two colors combined or three, as is the case with Johns Hopkins university.

A pretty present made on this plan is a brush broom case made in the shape of a shield. Those the writer has seen were for Yale and Princeton. White was combined with the Yale blue to relieve it. The upper part of the shield, which was made of pasteboard, was covered with plain blue satin, and the body of the shield was striped up and down with the blue and white. On the plain blue white flags are painted with the sticks crossing in the middle and having a blue Y on the flag sheet. The back is, of course, a plain piece covered with satin, and the shield hangs up by a ribbon. Put a brush broom in it and write "Brush Up" or something on the card and send it to the best college friend you have whose colors you have used.

Another present which can be made in college colors is a doll pincushion. A jointed doll about ten inches long is dressed in the colors desired—say yellow with black trimmings for Princeton. It is then set on a circular piece of cardboard seven or eight inches in diameter, and the silk skirt, which has been made large enough to admit of it, is gathered together in the middle of the underside of the cardboard. It has also been stuffed with lamb's wool or cotton batting, and when finished it makes a very good pincushion. These doll cushions were introduced in New York at the time of the Yale-Princeton football game, but they are just as acceptable at Christmas time. Crimson for Harvard, blue for Yale, yellow and black for Princeton, brown and white for Brown, blue and white for Columbia, scarlet and brown for St. Lawrence, cardinal and white for Cornell—any of these colors combined to make the simplest kind of an article

That was a hard experience, said the lawyer who profits largely upon the matrimonial troubles of others. "There was a rich widow living in the town where I began practice and after her weeds were discarded she was given over to the lighter ways of society. She was especially prone to flirtation at her favorite summer resort and her engagements there were held as lightly as those of the veriest summer girl. Her return home from a summer of unusual brilliance was followed in a short time by a respectable looking gentleman of 80 who showed his business qualities by walking into my office and putting down a handsome retainer before talking business. "Now, sir," he stated with admirable directness, "I want you to begin a $50,000 suit against this wealthy widow. She gave me an unqualified promise of marriage and now refuses to make it good. Men have hearts to break and pride to humiliate, just as women have, and I propose to strike a blow for my sex."

"Would you compromise?" "Yes, in case you so advise, but not for less than half the sum named and a written apology from her. If it would help any in the matter of a settlement out of court, I have the affidavits of half a dozen poor devils that she has thrown over from time to time."

"The widow stormed and fumed and then capitulated. She couldn't face the prospect of having her foolish flirtations blazoned before the public. After she had wedded again and gone abroad my client made this admission to me: 'I was never engaged to that widow and had she proposed to settle by marrying me I would have run. I took chances on her forgetting just whom she did promise to marry and I won.'"—Detroit Free Press.

The First Cab. Like the buses, cabs were introduced from Paris, but some ten years earlier, or, say, about 1820. Although its type was not at all settled, the cabriolet was a little, hooded vehicle, quite above its axle, and therefore very high and difficult to get into. It was only intended to carry one passenger, though two slim ones who did not mind squeezing could generally manage to find room. The driver sat on a little shelf or perch on the right hand side, quite outside the body of the machine. This was an English innovation. In Paris driver and fare shared the same seat, and this was continued here for private cabriolets.

The ingenious Mr. Joseph Hanson, who was an architect of Hinckley, Leicestershire, however, bethought him in 1834 that if he used larger wheels and suspended the body of the cab between them, the vehicle would hold two easily, or three at a pinch, would balance better, be easier to draw, and safer if the horse fell. Further improved by putting the driver behind and the axle under the seat, the invention soon made its way, and by the fifties the hansom was as much the favorite cab of London as it is today. The original patent is dated Dec. 23, 1834. — Gentleman's Magazine.

Only One Trouble. After the young man had criticised the course of the prosecuting attorney at some length and had ended up by informing him what he should have done the latter grasped him warmly by the hand and remarked:

"It is evident that you have given this case considerable thought, Mr. Brown, and the arguments you advance in support of your position convince me that there is only one reason in the world why you should not even now be as successful a lawyer as I."

"And what is that?" asked the young man. "You don't know as much."

As the young man slowly picked his way along the street he couldn't help wondering to himself whether it was really worth while to give so much valuable time to other people's business. — Chicago Post.

Animals In Groups. The ingenuity of the sportsman is perhaps no better illustrated than by the use he puts the English language to in designating particular groups of animals. The following is a list of the terms which have been applied to the various classes: A covey of partridges, a ride of pheasants, a wisp of snipe, a flight of doves or swallows, a muster of peacocks, a siege of herons, a building of rooks, a brood of grouse, a stand of plover, a watch of nightingales, a clattering of cloughs, a herd or bunch of cattle, a flock of geese, a bevy of quails, a caw of hawks, a swarm of bees, a school of whales, a shoal of herrings, a herd of swine, a skulk of foxes, a pack of wolves, a drove of oxen, a sounder of hogs, a troop of monkeys, a pride of lions, a sleuth of bears, a gang of elk.

No Flaws In This Receipt. There is a passage in the following paper which might strike the casual observer as something facetious, but he is assured that no such effect was in mind when the sentence was indited. The paper referred to is a receipt originally given by an enterprising firm of Harrisburg druggists, and the form used was in common vogue at the time. Thus it runs.

Received July 21st, 1795, of Mr. David Scarlet, the sum of $200, in full of all acts, since the year One, when the Devil was a suckling baby, up to this day, being after the celebration of Independence. FENTON & HUNT. Longevity to Washington and God save the Congress. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Not an Absolute Necessity. "Only 14 quarts of milk for $1 hereafter," exclaimed Ardup. "Well, we'll simply have to quit taking it, that's all. We can't afford it. People can live without milk." And Ardup's indignation was so great that he did not get off his chair.

GROWING IN FAVOR.

The Latest Things in Photographs Are Much Sought as Christmas Gifts.

THEY CAN BE HAD AT HOME.

A Benton Harbor Artist Who Makes a Specialty of Caring for This Business.

J. N. Poundstone has just completed a series of improvements in his photograph studio which make this the finest appointed gallery in Michigan to be found outside of Detroit and Grand Rapids. There is an art displayed in the arrangement and equipment that not only is pleasing to the eye but the furniture and decoration of the operating room were selected with the view of producing work the equal of any artist in the country. The walls are decorated with paper of a light green tint and it perfectly harmonizes with the soft, mellow light that penetrates the newly arranged sky windows. The finished product of the gallery shows the effect of the artistic arrangement. The reception room has also been refitted throughout and is now a luxurious apartment.

Mr. Poundstone has enjoyed a phenomenal increase of business since he came to Benton Harbor seven years ago. Equipped with an experience of eight years, he located on West Main street and began business in a small way. After an experience of a year and a half he was satisfied that in Benton Harbor there was a field for a high grade studio. Rooms in the White block, then in course of construction, were built after the plans furnished by Mr. Poundstone, and the result is that the light, under the trimming of the artist's hand, is just right.

Photographs as Christmas gifts are yearly growing more and more in favor. Last year many people were disappointed in not receiving their pictures in time for the holidays, and the same will occur again this year with parties who keep postponing sitting for their pictures. Appointments for sittings may be made by telephone, calling up telephone No. 80.

One of the features of Mr. Poundstone's enterprise that is most appreciated is the fact that he always has the latest styles in mountings and finish and the Chicago studios are not in advance of him in this respect. Mr. Poundstone always provides his patrons not only with the best work but always furnishing the very latest style, and the style of a photograph used as a holiday gift should be correct as the likeness itself.

THE WILHELM CASE.

The Reason Why His Trip South Has Been Indefinitely Deferred.

Saginaw, Nov. 23.—Dr. Lewis, of this city, has reported another most wonderful cure through the use of the much-talked-of remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. Having been thoroughly convinced of the unquestionable merits of this remedy when tried in the case of Mr. Charles C. Carter, whose radical cure of Bright's disease is well known he prescribed them for Mr. Jerome B. Wilhelm, 1320 Ames street, a war veteran, 55 years of age, who is receiving a pension from the government for disability, and who had been treated six months by Dr. Bliss for that deadly and alarming trouble, heart disease.

Mr. Wilhelm says he had not been taking Dodd's Kidney Pills three days after the doctor prescribed them until he felt so much improved that he could hardly realize the change. He is now entirely free from the pains in his back and in the region of his heart, and can eat well, sleep well, and feels that he is entirely cured.

He had given up hope and as a last resort was making preparations to go south to regain his health, when Dr. Lewis prescribed Dodd's Kidney Pills, which cured him.

It is believed that this proves there is no case of Bright's disease, diabetes, heart disease, dropsy, or any other disease caused by disordered kidneys or impure blood which Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure, as not one single failure has been reported.

THIS IS STRANGE.

Two Incidents that Followed Each Other Closely.

There is a remarkable feature about the settlement of the Shriver-Bean case yesterday. The incident which resulted in this famous lawsuit occurred on the morning of August 12, 1894, and on the same morning the steamer Richmond was run down and sunk in the St. Joseph river by the steamer Puritan, the two incidents occurring about 30 minutes apart.

The owners of the Richmond, Graham Bros. & Morton, sued the Seymour transportation company, the owner of the Puritan, for damages and yesterday that case was settled, and the settlement of the two cases occurred just 30 minutes apart, the same length of time elapsing between the time of settlement as elapsed between the time of the incidents that lead up to the suits.

The cases had no connection whatever. They were pending in two different courts and no effort was made to have them settled at the same time. Gore & Harvey appeared for the plaintiffs in both cases.

A CHAMPION.

Niles Minister Favors Prize Fighting Above Football.

Niles, Nov. 23.—The Rev. W. J. Kyles, who was called from Lodi, Ill., to the pulpit of the First Baptist church has created a great sensation by denouncing football in the most severe terms in his sermon Sunday evening. He characterized the game as a "relic of barbarism," and thought that prize-fighting was tame beside it. He recommended legislative action to prohibit the game.

Honors of Shorthand.

The conference of shorthand writers in connection with the celebration of the diamond jubilee of Pitman's system discussed some unusual applications of shorthand. One fervid gentleman enlarged on the advantages of the "swift art" as a help to courtship. How much gushing affection, the speaker asked, evaporates in the process of writing love letters in long hand? The shorthand writing swain, penning his tender epistles to the phonographic maiden, is free from this difficulty. His intensest feelings he can express in fluent strokes and curves he can express in the moment they stir within him. This suggestion brought up another speaker, who favored his hearers with a little reminiscence. In remote days he had desired to put to a certain young lady a certain question to which he felt difficulty in giving utterance. A happy thought struck him—he would put the question on paper in the symbols of shorthand. This would be mysterious to the lady; she would ask him to read the question, and his difficulties would at once disappear. Man proposes, but things do not always work out as he desires. The young lady exhibited no curiosity, but quietly pocketed the shorthand. At the next interview with her lover she calmly told him that she had unraveled his message and was prepared to give an affirmative reply. The wily maiden had sent the shorthand proposal to Sir Isaac Pitman, who had supplied her with the translation. —Westminster Gazette.

BEAN-SHRIVER COMPROMISE.
 The people of this city generally rejoice that the litigation between Mr. Bean and Mr. Shriver and Mr. Bean and former members of the city council is declared off and that once more legal peace reigns between Benton Harbor people and the president of the street car corporation.
 The facts in the Shriver case are so vivid and they were so clearly brought out in the first trial that the public has not forgotten them. There was no attempt to deny that Mr. Shriver, who, at the time of the trouble, was an alderman, had been shot by Mr. Bean, the president of the street car company. The city council had ordered certain tracks removed and the street railway company refused to comply with the request. The aldermen took it in hand to remove the tracks in order that the paving contractors might continue their work. The aldermen were about to engage in this work of tearing out tracks when Mr. Bean appeared with a gun and shot Mr. Shriver. At the trial it was claimed that the discharge of the gun was accidental. Mr. Shriver was lacking in evidence to show that he was carrying out a resolution of the council, as the fact was not established that such a resolution had really been passed, evidence which since has been secured. The jury rendered a verdict of no cause of action and the case was reversed by the supreme court.
 By the terms of the compromise all the suits growing out of the trouble in connection with the tearing out of the tracks on East Main street are settled. Mr. Shriver has nearly recovered from his wound and he could expect no greater award of damages in a second trial than he received by the settlement; the costs of another trial and a judgment which seems certain, would amount to more than the price paid by Mr. Bean in the settlement.
 Both Mr. Shriver and Mr. Bean

LAST week a meeting in the interests of harbor improvements was held at St. Joseph, and a resolution was passed requesting the newspapers to say nothing of the plans proposed. At the meeting were reporters of the Palladium and THE EVENING NEWS. The first named paper disregarded the request and gave out particulars that have greatly injured the chances of carrying the plans to success. THE EVENING NEWS kept faith with the meeting and made public none of the secrets of the meeting. This is not the first time Benton Harbor's yellow journal has failed to keep faith or its promises in regard to matters of news unripe for publication. As the ill effects of its latest vicious disregard of the public good becomes more apparent bitter indignation is aroused. Several lifelong friends of the paper discontinued their subscriptions on this account. It is hoped that the local yellow journal will change its color.

Mr. Daigneau is considered an expert laundryman and his advice and assistance is frequently sought by the laundries in the larger cities. He will be away two or three weeks.

DOWAGIAC News: There are a few people in Benton Harbor who remain of the opinion that the electric railroad will be built. They are undoubtedly composed of that class of people who eat three meals today and tomorrow have a hard time begging one. There are always some people who stand around a corpse and swear that it is alive, but a great majority of the people will prepare for the funeral.

FIRE broke out in the Lytle oyster house on Bellevue street this morning and but for its timely discovery the entire building would have been destroyed. Mr. Lytle entered the place early this morning and left shortly after to see to a shipment of oysters to Hartford. It was during his absence that the fire started. It was discovered by persons passing the place and before much damage was done it was extinguished. The flames were communicated from a broken stove pipe.

JUDGING from appearances the person most interested in a settlement of the street railway troubles was the editor of the Palladium. In the former trial that paper took a mysterious stand against the interests of its own city and citizens and it may be that the present financial affairs of the newspaper are such that it could not afford to go through another trial in the same way. Those who had no personal interest in the matter are as glad as the interested ones over the happy settlement.

THERE will be a feast at the A. M. E. church Thanksgiving day. Preaching at 10 o'clock and dinner begins at 1 o'clock, served by the ladies of the Upper Lights society. New Products of Wood.

It is not generally known that over 60 per cent of wood may be converted into liquid. The strongest hydraulic pressure would not squeeze one-half of 1 per cent of moisture from dry wood, but by putting the same material into an iron retort and converting it into charcoal by means of heat the gases and smoke, to the extent of fully 65 per cent of the weight of the wood, may be condensed into a liquid called pyroligneous acid, and from it are obtained wood alcohol, acetate of lime and wood tars. A cord of wood weighing 4,000 pounds produces about 2,650 pounds of pyroligneous acid and 700 pounds of charcoal. The pyroligneous acid from one cord of wood produces 9 gallons of 82 per cent crude wood alcohol, 200 pounds of acetate of lime and about 25 gallons of tar, besides 85 bushels of charcoal. After the pyroligneous acid is neutralized with lime the wood alcohol is distilled off, the lime holding the acetic acid in solution. After the separation of the wood spirit the remaining liquid is boiled down in open pans to a sugar, which is dried, and becomes the acetate of lime of commerce. Acetate of lime is used for making acetic acid. Fully three-fifths of all the wood alcohol and acetate of lime produced in the world are made in the United States. Fully 15,000 acres per year are cleared for this purpose. Wood alcohol affords a perfect substitute for grain alcohol for manufacturing and mechanical purposes and at less than one-third the cost. It is used principally as a solvent in the making of shellac varnish, in making celluloid, photographic paper, etc. It makes many beautiful dye tints. It is antiseptic and much used for liniments and for skin rubbing in bathhouses.—New York Ledger.

When Man Is Dangerous.

It is a singular fact, yet one substantiated by statistics, that most crime is committed in New York by men 29 years old. This is not only true of the lesser, but also of the greater crimes, although a man is presumed to be at that period of his life not only in the zenith of his physical powers, but also in full and complete possession of his mental strength, with a complete appreciation of right and wrong and their respective consequences. This condition is a problem which has not been solved by the student of criminology, and one which is made the more complex by the fact that the ages of 21, 27 and 45 years nearly equal it, with the intervening years showing a far less percentage of crime.

It is indeed peculiar that the criminal tendency should be so strong at 29, with no such inclination, so far as criminal statistics show, in as great a degree for the succeeding 16 years and then another outburst of the animal in man.

This condition is found to be true by actual figures, and as all statistical computations at which average conditions are sought to be determined are arrived at by this method, so may the student of this subject as well as the insurance magnate who bases his rates on the general average of losses in proportion to the risks taken, and does so with full safety, employ it in solving the problem before him.—Chicago Times-Herald.

LUETGERT ANGRY.

Will Not Go Before Judge Horton for Trial.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—"If I go before Judge Horton for trial," said Luetgert yesterday, "it will be solely because they will put me in chains and drag me there like the soldiers dragged Hammond at Fort Sheridan, for I shall never walk there. I would prefer to put a rope around my own neck right here in jail and let them hang me without any trial at all."

The prisoner was in a violent temper and flatly charged that State's Attorney Deneen was plotting to secure his conviction by unfair means. He declared there were not enough jail guards in Cook county to compel him to go through another trial like the one before Judge Tuthill. Later he calmed down somewhat and expressed his regret for having spoken severely of Judge Horton.

"I wish to be fair to every man," he said, "and as I know I can get a change of venue from Judge Horton I feel I have no cause to quarrel with him."

A RAILROAD WAR.

The Big Four and an Indiana Town are Fighting.

Indianapolis, Nov. 23.—Danville, the county seat of Hendricks county, is having an interesting contest with the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad company, the only road that passes through the place. Several months ago a citizen engaged in the business of hauling freight from Indianapolis, twenty miles to Danville, by wagon. He fixed a price of 15 cents per 100 pounds, as against a rate of 27 cents charged by the railroad company. His business grew until most of the freight business of the town came to him and he ran four wagons. These wagons made trips to Indianapolis three or four times a week. His conveyances came to be known as the "hog train."

The railroad company, when it saw it was losing all the freight business of the town reduced its rate to 15 cents, but the merchants of the town were not satisfied with the services of the "hog train" and refused to patronize the railroad company. In ten days the railroad put the rate back to 27 cents and served notice that the fast trains no longer would be stopped at Danville and that the local Sunday morning passenger would be taken off. The hardest blow was the announcement that the fast passenger train that leaves the city for St. Louis at 11:30 o'clock at night would no longer make a stop within the limits of Hendricks county. This was the train in which the well-to-do people of Danville were accustomed to ride home after a night spent at the theatre in Indianapolis.

When the "ultimatum" of the railroad company was received, a council of war was held and it was decided that the town council shall pass an ordinance reducing the speed at which the company's trains may run through the city to six miles an hour. The ordinance has been prepared, and it is announced that unless the company "comes to time" it will be passed at the next meeting of the town council. In the light of the fact that the Knickerbocker special, one of the fastest trains in the west, has been running through the town at the rate of a mile a minute, the citizens feel that honors are about as easy as between the railroad company and the "hog train." The town has the assurance that the other country towns along the road will join it in its fight against the company, and the company foresees that if a few towns hold its fast trains down to a six-mile gait within their limits it will not be able to compete with other roads leading to St. Louis. The contest is attracting wide attention and at this time the betting is in favor of the "hog train."

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

The present railroad war may result in a $1 rate between Chicago and St. Paul.

Fred W. Griffin, who was assistant cashier of the Northwestern bank of Chicago and embezzled $50,000 two years ago, has been pardoned out of the penitentiary by President McKinley.

The total republican campaign expenses in Ohio was $54,000, of which Senator Hanna put up $5,000.

Letters or circulars addressed to "Leading Druggist" and so forth are no longer mailable.

It is officially announced that the trains on the Detroit, Toledo and Milwaukee will run through to Lake Michigan from Toledo. The change is effective December 1, when through passenger trains will be run from Toledo to Grand Haven. At Grand Haven the Detroit, Toledo and Milwaukee will connect with a boat line across the lake to Milwaukee. This makes three trans-Lake Michigan lines out of Toledo.

Spain fears that General Weyler may upset the present government.

The sixth congressional district of Chicago is today electing a congressman.

W. J. Bryan, the free silver candidate, played his first game of football yesterday.

The recent London fire shows the fire department in that city to be ten years behind the times.

Spain is making an effort to bribe the insurgent leaders to settle the war on the terms of Spain.

The Bimetallic Standard.

Hon. S. D. Williams, of Grand Rapids, will deliver an address at Conkey's hall, Tuesday evening, November 23. Mr. Williams is an eloquent speaker and a writer of recognized ability. All are invited to attend. 34662

An Old Age.

Moralists and philosophers have done their best, when they have themselves reached that time of life, to eulogize "old age," but they do not deceive even the young. ("These old gentlemen," says youth with its callow cynicism, "are foxes who have lost their tails.") They have done the same thing with poverty, and with the same ill success. It has had no exhilarating effect upon poor people. The reasons why old men have written in praise of old age are not far to seek; they say with Johnson, "Do not let us discourage one another." They are in for it, and they make the best of it. It is not well to cry stinking fish. Moreover, there is a natural tendency among well principled persons to make light of the ills of humanity. They fancy they are paying a compliment to Providence, and perhaps even conciliating it.

There are many old men who say, and quite truthfully, that they would not be young again if they could, but what they mean is not, of course, that they would not exchange weakness for strength and disillusion for hope, but that they have no desire to live their lives over again. The clinging to existence that we so often see in even very old men does not arise from love of it. Pope, sitting by Sir Godfrey Kneller's deathbed and finding him much dispirited, told him he had been a good man and would doubtless go to heaven. "Ah, my good friend," was the deplorable but pathetic reply, "I wish God would let me stay at Whitton." It was not, however, the attractions of Whitton that he had in his mind.—James Payn in Nineteenth Century.

Does your husband insist upon having his own way all the time? He ought to see "The Obstinate Family" at Conkey's hall Wednesday night.

Snakes That Like Thunder.

One of the wonders of the bare, sandy plains of New Mexico is the thunder snakes. They are by no means common, yet they are often encountered by prairie travelers, especially before and after thunderstorms. Flashes of lightning and claps of thunder, which are so terrifying to bipeds and quadrupeds, seem to have the greatest charm and delight for these members of the serpent family. Whenever a thunderstorm comes up they have a regular picnic. They come crawling out of holes, from behind rocks and rotten stumps and enjoy the fun while it lasts. Their nature is quarrelsome, their character fierce, and they are aggressive in a high degree, although their markings are very beautiful. They are not poisonous, however; their bark is worse than their bite.—Chicago Record.

Leighton's "Cimabue."

In describing a visit paid to the late Lord Leighton, Mrs. Tooley said that the artist on that occasion referred to the success of his first picture of note, "Cimabue," and to the fact, which evidently still pained him, that his next picture, "Orpheus," was greatly ridiculed.

"Where is the picture now?" he was asked.

"Don't I wish I knew!" he replied. "It would be worth a fortune to me at the present time." And that was all the reference he made to it.

The curious part of the incident, however, lies in the fact that after his death the canvas of this very picture was discovered rolled up and thrown away in the coal cellar.—Strand Magazine.

Resented.

"That escaped criminal seems to have had rather the best of it," remarked the talkative friend.

"Not at all," replied the detective, drawing himself up haughtily. "We've got him so frightened he doesn't dare show his face where we are."—Washington Star.

Smart Lawyer.

Plankington—I understand that you had to go to law about that property that was left you. Have you a smart lawyer?

Bloomfield—You bet I have. He owns the property now.—Pick Me Up.

In Vienna the height of a house must not exceed 82 feet. The floor of the last story must not be more than 65.6 feet above the level of the street. When the ground slopes, this measure must be taken from the highest point. The house must not have more than five stories, including the cellar and attics.
